You'll provide care and support for children who are living in a children's home or other residential setting. You'll get to know them and work as part of a team to provide a safe, stable, and nurturing environment and the love and support they need to thrive.

As well as guiding them, through their daily routine, you'll build relationships, be a good listener, organise fun activities and be someone they can trust, even when things are tough. WHAT PERSONAL QUALITIES ARE ESSENTIAL TO BE A RESIDENTIAL CHILDCARE PRACTITIONER?

Working with children and young people, particularly those who are recovering from traumatic experiences and who may require a lot of support, can of course be challenging, but is enormously rewarding too. It's important to reflect on your personal qualities and the strengths you could bring to the role.

Do you have good communication skills?

Do you have a naturally caring and supportive nature?

Are you great at building positive, trusting relationships, and willing to work hard at it?

Are you resilient and able to remain calm even when faced with challenging situations?

Are you trustworthy and comfortable with holding important responsibilities?

HOW MUCH DO RESIDENTIAL CHILDCARE WORKERS MAKE IN THE UK?

The average residential care worker salary in the UK is £24,691 per year or £12.66 per hour. Entry-level positions start at £21,919 per year while most experienced workers make up to £37,329 per year.

A CAREER IN COUNSELLING

Interested in mental health and emotional well-being? Counselling courses can teach you valuable skills and provide practical experience.

Recognised counselling qualifications can open up a fulfilling career as a professional counsellor in many settings.

WHAT DO COUNSELLORS DO?

Counsellors support people facing emotional and relationship issues such as bereavement, divorce, work-related problems, health conditions and anxiety. For many, counselling becomes a second or third career and previous experience in fields such as nursing, social work, or teaching will be useful.

YOUR ROUTE TO BECOMING WORK READY

There's a growing demand for qualified counsellors in the UK driven by an increasing awareness of mental health issues and the desire for accessible support.

WHERE SHOULD YOU BEGIN?

Taking your first step towards becoming a capable and compassionate counsellor starts with us.

1. Level 2 Certificate in Counselling Skills

Our introductory course is free online, typically completed in 12 weeks (or up to 24 weeks if needed). Alternatively, a 20-week, part-time, classroom-based option is available, requiring attendance one day a week.

2. Counselling Studies - Level 3 Certificate

We run this one-year course part-time. You'll gain a more in-depth understanding of counselling theories, to develop your skills and prepare for the next step.

3. HND Counselling and Applied Psychology (Integrative) (Level 4)

This two-year program equips you with the skills and knowledge to begin working as a counsellor, requiring supervised placement hours and investing in your own counselling therapy.

Following the HND, you can pursue a degree with a top-up year at University, specialising in fields like Cognitive Behavioural Therapy (CBT), or start practicing professionally.

ATTRIBUTES YOU NEED TO BECOME A COUNSELLOR

You should be:

- able to communicate with people from all walks of life
- an active listener
- non-judgemental, sensitive and understanding
- patient and able to stay calm in emotionally charged situations
- trustworthy, ethical and able to maintain confidentiality
- organised and skilled at keeping detailed and accurate notes and records.

HOW MUCH ARE COUNSELLORS PAID?

Counsellors usually earn between £20,000 to £26,000 when starting out. Some experienced counsellors earn between £30,000 and £40,000, with specialists commanding higher salaries. NHS counselling jobs start at around £28,400 and rise to around £50,000, depending on qualifications or experience.

In private practice, hourly fees can vary from £40 to £100 for a 50-minute session, but this can vary depending on location, experience, qualifications and client circumstances.

WHO EMPLOYS COUNSELLORS?

Counsellor roles are in a variety of settings, including:

- Schools, colleges, and universities.
- Statutory and voluntary sector care agencies working with people with disabilities or on a range of specific issues including substance abuse, bereavement or rehabilitation of offenders.
- Hospitals, GP surgeries, community healthcare settings, mental and occupational health teams and other health sector settings.
- Youth services and agencies as well as children's centres.
- Citizens Advice services.
- HR departments within companies.
- Telephone helplines.
- Faith-based organisations.

IMPROVE YOUR ENGLISH AND MATHS

Each year we transform the lives of hundreds of adults by helping them gain essential skills and qualifications in English and maths.

Most of the time we don't think about English and maths, but we use these skills all the time:

- At home - paying for bills, reading letters, helping your child with their homework or recipes, or even booking holidays.
- At work - communicating with colleagues, customers or calculating wages.
- In our social life - paying for shopping or petrol, sharing a bill in a restaurant, or reading a menu.

With a range of courses including Entry Level, Level 1, Level 2 Functional Skills and GCSE, we can offer a route for you to improve your skills.

If you want to study at college, please book your assessment and enrolment appointment, email: applications@wigan-leigh.ac.uk or call: 01942 761111

If you would prefer to study at a local community centre, please contact Wigan Council Adult Learning team on: 01942 489758 / 489714 or email: adultlearning@wigan.gov.uk

You may be eligible for full funding if you don't already have GCSE Maths and English grades 9-4, regardless of the other qualifications you have.

Fees are paid annually for courses lasting more than one year. Fees in this guide are for the first year of the course, unless marked *

NICOLETA LANDS NEW CAREER AND LIFE CHANGE THANKS TO COLLEGE CLASSES

College classes helped to turn life around for 39-year-old Nicoleta Radu.

She not only launched a new career, but also met her husband to be.

In 2010, Nicoleta decided to improve her English moving from Romania to the UK to take up a short contract as an au pair, attending English for Speakers of other Languages (ESOL) classes at the college. It was there that she met Pouria from Iran.

Three years later, the couple married. When their two boys were at primary school, Nicoleta decided to take up a role volunteering as a teaching assistant. She loved the work so much she enrolled at the college once more to study Level 2 and 3 Teaching Assistant courses, and secured a paid role at Our Lady's Primary School in Aspull.

"When the boys were young I really struggled to find a job that fit in around their school hours," said Nicoleta. "I was delighted to be offered the teaching assistant job at the school, working on a one-to-one basis with a child who needed additional learning support, and I was able to continue to learn at college at the same time."

Nicoleta has now progressed to the Foundation Degree Children, Young People and their Services and having achieved a First Class result in the first year she is hoping to keep up her high standards in the second.

Nicoleta is planning to progress to achieve the BA (Hons) Education Studies at the University Centre, with a long-term plan to work with children and families in Social Services.

NAOMI POTTS

Naomi Potts' experience of home schooling has led to a new career as a Teaching Assistant.

Following lockdown, the teachers at her children's school were so impressed with how she tackled home tutoring with her own children, they suggested she come into class to volunteer as a classroom assistant.

The mum of seven signed up for the Level 2 Teaching Assistant course soon after, and has now progressed through Level 3 to Level 4.

"I've really enjoyed the courses," said Naomi, who admits to a busy life juggling a full-time Teaching Assistant job with auxiliary nursing at the weekend, alongside studying and bringing up her family.

"My husband is up at 5.15am, so often I get up with him and get some college work done. We do run on very little sleep," she added.

Naomi is mum to twins aged 10 with an 11 year-old, a 13-year-old and three older ones at college and university.

"I'm very organised, I really have to be," she added.

Naomi is set to complete the Level 4 Teaching Assistant evening course this year.

"The courses have been great progression for me alongside work," said Naomi. "I now have a much better understanding of the job. It's been manageable without being overwhelming."
